Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

On October 31, 2008, CVR Energy, Inc. (the "Company") entered into an Amendment (the "Amendment") to its Amended and Restated Crude Oil Supply Agreement (the "Agreement") with J. Aron & Company ("J. Aron"). The Amendment extends the date on which either party must deliver written notice of its election not to renew the Agreement for a full year from October 31, 2008 to December 1, 2008.

In addition, the Company announced that while J. Aron has indicated that it does not intend to renew the supply agreement for a full twelve months, the parties have been in discussions regarding extending the supply agreement for up to 45 days beyond December 31, 2008, on terms and conditions mutually acceptable to both parties, in order to assure the Company an uninterrupted supply of crude oil while it negotiates with alternative suppliers. The Company announced that it is in discussions with multiple parties in order to select a new supplier to replace its crude oil supply agreement with J. Aron. Pursuant to the crude oil supply agreement, J. Aron has historically purchased crude oil and other transportation fuels on behalf of the Company and provided transportation and other logistical services to the Company with respect to the crude oil purchased.

J. Aron is an affiliate of Goldman, Sachs & Co. Affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co. currently beneficially own approximately 36.5% of the Company. In addition, J. Aron has also been a party to a cash flow swap agreement with the Company since June 2005 which is expected to terminate in 2010.

CVR ENERGY REVIEWS MULTIPLE CRUDE OIL SUPPLY PROPOSALS;
J. ARON & COMPANY AMENDS EXISTING AGREEMENT

SUGAR LAND, Texas (Nov. 5, 2008) – CVR Energy, Inc. (NYSE: CVI) announced today that it is in discussions with multiple parties to select a new supplier for a replacement of its crude oil supply agreement with J. Aron & Company.

The company said that J. Aron and CVR Energy had agreed to extend to Dec. 1, 2008, the date by which either party may provide notice of cancellation of their current crude oil supply agreement. The agreement currently renews each year on Dec.31 unless either party provides an advance notice of cancellation. While J. Aron has indicated that it does not intend to renew the supply agreement for a full twelve months beyond Dec. 31, 2008, the parties have been in discussions regarding extending their supply agreement for up to 45 days beyond Dec. 31, 2008, on terms and conditions mutually acceptable to both parties, in order to assure CVR Energy an uninterrupted supply of crude oil while CVR negotiates with alternative suppliers.

“We appreciate J. Aron’s decision to extend the time available for CVR Energy to analyze the proposals that have been submitted to us,” said Jack Lipinski, CVR Energy’s chairman, president and chief executive officer. “I am particularly pleased with the expressed interest we are seeing from competing parties for this business, and appreciate J. Aron’s willingness to work with us while we evaluate the alternative suppliers available in the market.”

CVR Energy did not identify which companies submitted proposals. The company indicated that it was working toward executing a definitive agreement with a new supplier by the end of 2008 and, in any event, by no later than the end of the first quarter of 2009.

The current supply agreement with J. Aron would have required CVR Energy or J. Aron to provide written notice by last Friday of any election not to continue with the current agreement through the end of 2009. As amended, either party must provide notice of cancellation by Dec. 1, 2008.
